A new colour palette has been introduced at Ballynahinch Castle hotel

BARRY MURPHY

A room of one's own

All 20 rooms in the original house at Ballynahinch Castle hotel have been treated to a revamp by London-based Bryan O'Sullivan Studio. A new muted colour palette was introduced, with clashing stripe and floral wallpapers as well as new soft-furnishing fabrics and bespoke antique furniture. The challenge was to refresh even the rooms that regular guests request when they return, without giving any of them aesthetic shock. A one-night stay B&B with dinner, is from €220pp.
